

“Live-In” Care

Seniors that need around-the clock assistance might benefit from Concierge Care “Live-In” services. Caregivers are referred to provide for all of the clients needs including personal care, medication reminders, cooking, light housekeeping, encourage exercise as prescribed or desired, and transportation for errands or appointments.

With “Live-In” care, the referred caregivers sleep at the senior’s residence and are generally not required for assistance at night. Often, two or three caregivers provide the care for 2-3 days at a time over the course of the week. The client provides a place for the referred caregiver to sleep. “Live-In” services allow individuals to remain in their homes with improved safety and quality of life. The care plan is client and family directed to focus on the goals that will help them remain as healthy as possible.

The benefits of Live-In Care include:

- Consistency in caregiver (typically only 2-3 caregivers provide care)
- Improved patient safety
- Improved nutrition through dietary management and meal preparation
- Improved medication compliance with regular reminders to take medication as prescribed
- Improved socialization
- Improved positive family involvement
- Decreases in stress and anxiety around scheduled appointments
- Regular exercise routines as prescribed by doctor or desired
- Typically, 33% savings in cost over round the clock care
